

People who enjoy Old World, classically styled wines will appreciate our 2016 Two Brothers Pinot Noir. 2016 is considered a particularly good vintage and it was the last vintage of the three year drought. The composition of this wine is rooted heavily in Bennett Valley Pinot Noir, lending spice and earth to the nose while the fruit compote and verve that we have come to admire from Devoto Vineyard on the Sonoma Coast lift the wine and bring length to the palate.

The 2016 Two Brothers opens with a fresh and pretty bouquet of rose petals, cranberry, dried cherry, and crushed raspberries. It's a medley of deep, spiced scents that call to mind early fall fragrance, when berries are ready for harvest and roses are putting on a final show of flowers. The 2016 also has an earthy brilliance created by aromas of mint, dusty earth, white pepper, and whole cluster spice. This wine is medium-bodied with a nice long finish.
